

Adnan Private Facts

Adnan has heard gossip through his daily readings on TMZ.com that Britney may be pregnant. (Oops, she did it again!) Unbeknownst to Britney, Adnan was tested during his first marriage and told he is “shooting blanks” (i.e. sterile). No one, other than Adnan and his ex-wife know of this medical problem and Adnan is desperate to keep this information from coming out.

Life has been interesting with Britney but Adnan does not necessarily want to stay married to her. He will, however, stay with Britney for a monthly allowance of a substantial sum. Adnan wants as much publicity as possible because he profits substantially from media exposure.

Adnan wants custody of Britney’s child because he sees the child as a goldmine. Adnan wants the money he can claim from Britney by way of child support. Adnan wants to go public with his suspicions that Britney is pregnant because he thinks he can use this information to prove that the marriage was consummated therefore entitling him to a portion of Britney’s earnings during their three months of “blissful” marriage.

Adnan was making $30,000 per year prior to meeting Britney and now makes $100,000 per year because of Britney’s fame. If he stays with Britney he wants to stay in Hollywood and soak up the attention and fame surrounding Britney.
