

CONFIDENTIAL INFO for Britney:

Britney has grown exhausted from the emotional rollercoaster that her life has become. Living life in the public eye has become too much for her, and she is sick and tired of being tabloid fodder. While her music career has come to a standstill, Britney still makes $10 million per year from royalties, her perfume line, and various other endorsement deals. She is set for life and never needs to work again.

Britney feels that she loves Adnan and wants them to work out their issues as husband and wife. More than anything she wants to stay together and have a family with him, BUT she is firmly against living out her life under the watchful eyes of Hollywood. She is not sure whether or Adnan is willing to work through their problems, and in the event that Adnan wants out of the marriage, Britney will do everything in her power to have it annulled rather than have it end in divorce (there was no pre-nup!). She feels that she has done enough to help Adnan's career by allowing him to take private photographs of her and sell them to gossip rags.

Ooops she did it again! After joining the cult, Britney learned that she is pregnant. She is ecstatic and wants to raise her baby with Adnan. She hopes that the news of her pregnancy will make him want to stay together. Above all, she wishes to start a new life with Adnan and her baby away from Hollywood and the omnipresent paparazzi. Privacy is her top priority. She would like to relocate to her hometown of Redneck, Louisiana, but isn't insistent on that location.

Although Britney couldn't be happier about her pregnancy, she is unsure who the father really is. A couple months ago Britney and Adnan had a brief falling out; after a long night of clubbing, Britney had a secret rendezvous with Justin Timberhot (unbeknownst to Adnan). The next day, Britney and Adnan made up and got back together. But given how far along Britney is in her pregnancy, she fears that Timberhot may be the real father and not Adnan. Since she slept with both men in the same week, it's feasible that either one could be the father. Britney fears that word of her affair with Timberhot may have gotten out, but she has no proof to substantiate this hunch. She would fervently deny any such rumors if they came up, but fears that after the child is born, from the looks of the baby, it will be obvious whether or not the father is Adnan. She sincerely hopes that it is Adnan who is the father.
